MRS. EDMUND SLIFER

Mrs. Edmund Slifer, of Littlestown, died at the home of her son, Mr. Luther Slifer, of Germany township, on Tuesday, October 24th, at 11 o'clock, from a complication of diseases, aged 54 years, 10 months and 28 days. She had been in ill health for about two years.

Her maiden name was Alice Rebecca Kindig, a daughter of the late John Kindig, of Conewago township. About 32 years ago she was married to Edmund Slifer. They have resided in Littlestown for the past ten years, with the exception of the last two months, when she went to her son's, owing to the condition of her health.

She is survived by her husband and two children, Luther S. Slifer, of Germany township, and Mrs. Frank Beachtel, of Silver Run. Also a step-daughter, Mrs. Samuel Smith, of Littlestown, and the following brothers and sister: George Kindig, of Hanover; Charles and Frank Kindig, of near Littlestown; Samuel Kindig, of Kentland, Ind.; and Mrs. John Maus, of Silver Run.

The funeral was held Friday morning, meeting at the house at 9:30 o'clock. From there the cortege proceeded to St. Paul's Lutheran church Littlestown, of which she had been a life long member, where further services were conducted by Rev. John Jay Hill, the pastor. Interment was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

TWO AT THE SAME TIME

To hear Fred Bacon, play two separate and distinct airs on the banjo at the same time, is a wonderful effort and a rare treat. The Mobile, Alabama, Register. "Wm. Foden, showed his complete mastery of the guitar last night, at Meley's auditorium, in his rendition of the Sextette from Lucia." Morning Call, Allentown, Pa., April 28, 1911. Hear these two great artists with the Bacon, Foden Concert Co., in Bruns Chapel, next Monday evening, Oct. 30th. Chart at Buehler's drug store.

A GOOD ONE

Our exchanges speak in most complimentary terms of the appearance of "The Girl Who Wasn't" which has played in this section for the past week and will be produced by Hal Johnson and a competent cast at the Wizard tonight. Mr. Johnson impersonates several female types, among which are the suffragette, the girl stenographer, the "blase" society girl and the Gypsy fortune teller. There are other interesting characters which are somewhat new to the farce comedy line.

SUSPECT REASON FOR BAER'S TRIP

Some Railroad Men Think Trip over Gettysburg and Harrisburg had Something to do with Proposed New Line to Gardners.

Considerable significance is attached by some to the visit of President Baer and a party of other officials of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company who inspected the Gettysburg and Harrisburg branch this week in view of the rumors that the company is contemplating the building of a new line through upper York county and Adams county to give a more direct route from Dillsburg to Gardner's station. President Baer's trip may have had to do with this proposition, railroad men aver.

President Baer and the members of his staff rode in a special train over the division and were accompanied by other officials. They left Reading station, Harrisburg, Thursday morning at 8 o'clock and proceeded to Gettysburg. The return trip was made at once, after which the party was escorted over the Lebanon Valley branch by Superintendent Stackhouse.

In Dillsburg and other points in the upper end of York county there are rumors that the Reading company is planning to reconstruct its line from Dillsburg to Gardner's station. It is said that recently a party of officials made the trip in an automobile, looking over the route it is planned to traverse. The plan is, it is said, to build a new single line from Dillsburg to Clear Spring and from thence down through the Latimore Valley to York Springs and thence to Gardner's station. This would give the Reading access to much uncovered territory and also a much more direct line between Harrisburg and Gettysburg for both freight and passenger traffic. At present Dillsburg is off the direct line, a spur running from the main track to that borough.

Mr. Stein sang, Mrs. J. B. Baker played, Miss Ruth Clutz sang, and Miss Elsie Singmaster read her most recently published story which appeared only a few days ago in the November Harper's. After refreshments all joined in singing old time songs including "The Watch on the Rhine" in honor of several German students at the institution and "The Star Spangled Banner."

A very pretty wedding took place in the Catholic church in Fairfield, when Miss Carrie Pecher, daughter of Mrs. Annie Pecher, and Allen Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Redding, were married at a nuptial mass at ten o'clock Thursday by Father Connaghan.

The bride was dressed in a handsome gown of white duchess satin, with panel train, trimmed in duchess lace and silk fringe. She wore a veil and carried bride's roses.

Miss Euphemia Pecher, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore lavender tulle and a white silk bonnet, trimmed with pink rosebuds, and carried a muff of white chrysanthemums and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. W. A. Roberts, of Washington, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in purple velvet and carried crimson dahlias.

The groom was attended by his brother, Clarence B. Redding. Miss Helen Sanders played the Mendelssohn wedding march. The church choir assisted at the mass.

The matron of honor led the bridal procession followed by the bridesmaid and then the bride entered the church with her brother, J. Harry Pecher.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Redding left for New York and Atlantic City on a wedding tour. The bride's traveling suit was purple cloth. The wedding was only a church affair, owing to the recent death of the bride's father.

THE APPLE CROP

On the Adams County apple crop the Harrisburg Star-Independent has the following to say:

"The apple season is reaching its height and hundreds of carloads are being shipped over the lines of the Philadelphia and Reading railway from the big orchards in and about Biglerville, Adams county. From eight to ten cars are being shipped through Harrisburg daily for the eastern markets."

"The company expects to be handling apples all through the winter this year from the Adams county orchards because of the fact of the big storage plant that has just been completed near Biglerville. The capacity of the plant is about 26,000 barrels. For this reason the season will be stretched out considerably instead of being required to handle the apples in about six weeks."

INJURED BY FALL

Wilson Reynolds, Mont Alto, superintendent of the White Pine sanatorium, was painfully injured, Thursday afternoon, while helping unload a truck of freight at the sanatorium.

He was standing on the truck and lifting a box, when he lost his balance and fell to the ground.

His head struck the earth sharply and an ugly gash was cut in the flesh. Fortunately the injury was not more severe. He is still confined to bed but is improving satisfactorily.

New York, Oct. 28.—At the closing session of the annual conference of the sanitary officers of the state of New York, at the Carnegie library, Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute, announced that as the result of many experiments he was able to say that epidemic spinal meningitis could now be entirely controlled.
This, he said, could be done by injecting serum into the cerebral spinal membrane.
"It has taken much money and a long time to perfect this cure," said Dr. Flexner. "This is the first time I have announced it, as only very recently have I demonstrated to my own satisfaction that the serum I have prepared will do as I claim."
"Influenza meningitis in the child, which has caused so many deaths and which spreads so rapidly, will, with the application of this new form of treatment be not one-tenth as dangerous as it was before."

MAY MARRY McFARLAND IN JAIL
Miss Bromley to Wed Alleged Wife Slayer.

TO PREVENT HER TESTIFYING

Prosecution Will Attempt to Show That MacFarland Killed His Wife So That He Could Marry Miss Bromley.
Newark, N. J., Oct. 28.—Before Allison MacFarland is placed on trial for the murder of his wife by cyanide of potassium he will be married to Miss Florence Bromley, of Philadelphia, who has been referred to as the "other woman" in the case.
This announcement was made by Frank M. McDermitt, counsel for MacFarland, after it was learned that the prisoner would be called upon to plead to the indictment Monday.
The lawyer declared that the reason for the proposed marriage was to prevent the possibility of having Miss Bromley testify against MacFarland at the trial. Under the law a woman cannot testify against her husband in a capital case.
Prosecutor Mott smiled when he was informed of the announcement and declared that he did not intend to have Miss Bromley as a witness in the case.
It is believed that the prosecution will attempt to show that MacFarland killed his wife so that he could marry Miss Bromley. MacFarland will plead before Judge Davis in the court of over and terminer on Monday, and a date will probably be set for the trial at the same time.
Members of the grand jury which indicted MacFarland, in making their customary tour through the county institutions, visited the county jail. One of the jurymen asked where MacFarland's cell was, and when the prisoner learned that the visitors were grand jurymen he expressed a desire to talk with them. He declared that his indictment was "nothing short of an outrage." He declared once more that he had plenty of reasons for seeking a divorce, but that he had none to do murder.

During an informal discussion with Mr. McDermitt at the court house Prosecutor Mott made a remark that aroused interest. The prosecutor was arguing how positive he was in his opinion of the guilt of MacFarland and Mr. McDermitt was equally as certain of the innocence of the prisoner.
"Frank, why didn't you send her that ring?" the prosecutor asked. The prosecutor refused to explain the question when he was asked about it later, and Mr. McDermitt refused to throw any light on it.
According to reports at the court house, Miss Bromley told Newark detectives when they questioned her in Philadelphia that MacFarland had always posed as living apart from his wife. She admitted that she knew he was married, but believed that he was separate from his wife.

FIND DYNAMITE ON TRACKS
Another Attempt Made to Blow Up Southern Pacific Express.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—Officials of the Southern Pacific railroad were notified of the finding of thirty-six sticks of dynamite in a frog on the track at Ellwood, Cal., a few moments after train No. 18, a south-bound passenger train, had passed the switch.
Part of the dynamite was pulverized, evidently having been ground by the car wheels.
The dynamite was found within a few miles of the bridge where a similar coach was planted when President Taft's train passed on Oct. 17.

BULL CLEARS MYSTERY
Animal Stands Guard Over Mangled Body of Missing Woman.
Elphinstone, Man., Oct. 28.—The mystery of the disappearance of Mrs. Johanna Ghtons, a farmer's wife, who disappeared two weeks ago, has been cleared.
Her body was found not far from her home and was trampled and torn into a almost unrecognizable mass.
Standing nearby was a bull, the cause of her death. The animal had stood guard over the body of his victim, and when routed returned to his position beside it.

Rob Town Bank and Escape.
Shawnee, Okla., Oct. 28.—Robbers attacked the town of McComb, several miles from here, cut the telephone and telegraph wires, then blew open the safe in the town bank. They got a large amount of money and escaped before a sheriff's posse could head them off. Big posses are on the robbers' trail.

BEAT HERMIT, MISS HORD.
Masked Men Nearly Kill Aged Man and Overlook Wallet.
Pennsbury, Pa., Oct. 28.—Three masked burglars brutally assaulted Albert H. Graber, a wealthy hermit, aged seventy years, of Red Hill, as he entered his home, battered his face into a jelly and dragged him into the house, where they bound, gagged and chloroformed their victim, after which they ransacked the place.
They took a pocketbook from Graber's person, but missed a wallet containing his savings, which fell out of a drawer under some things while they were frantically searching for that very thing.
The old hermit lives alone in a big farm house on a lonely road a half mile east of Red Hill. After the burglars had left, Graber, after an hour's painful effort, managed to release himself and, being too weak to spread the alarm, dragged himself to bed, leaving a trail of blood on the floor.
He was found by the rural mail carrier, John Jackson, who summoned a doctor. If no internal injuries develop it is thought the aged man will recover.
There is no clew to his assailants, but the circumstances indicate that the culprits must have been familiar with the hermit's habits.

HARRY DAVIS SIGNS TO MANAGE "NAPS" Athletics' Captain Will Pilot Cleveland Next Year.
Cleveland, O., Oct. 28.—Harry H. Davis, captain of the World's Champion Athletics, signed a contract to manage the Cleveland team of the American league in 1912.
He arrived in Cleveland from Philadelphia and immediately went into conference with President Charles Somers and Vice President E. S. Barnard, of the Cleveland club.
Following the conference the official announcement was made that Davis had been engaged to pilot the Naps.
First Baseman George Stovall has been acting manager since last spring, when Manager James McGuire resigned.

TAFT EXPLAINS
Wouldn't Do Anything to Disturb Business, But Must Enforce Law.
Chicago, Oct. 28.—In an address here on the question of trust prosecutions, President Taft declared that he "would rather cut off his hand than to do anything to disturb the business of the country, especially to disturb it for a purpose with any coloring of political advantage."
Following this assertion, Mr. Taft explained his policy with regard to trust prosecutions, saying, first, that general business was suffering from "contagion and disease," of which it must be rid and then that he had no discretion in the enforcement of the law.
"I do not believe," continued the president, "that the great majority of business needs to square itself with the law."
Mr. Taft arrived in Chicago for a three days' visit.

Dollar Wheat Suffers.
Chicago, Oct. 28.—Dollar wheat, the farmer's ideal, suffered a fracture on 'change. For the first time in quite a while the December option went down into the nineties, selling off a cent and a half a bushel to 99 1/2 cents. The market was chiefly affected by the weakness in the stock market resulting from the government's attack on the United States Steel Corporation.
"Convict Autoist of Manslaughter."
Scranton, Pa., Oct. 28.—Herman Behrens, autoist, who ran down and killed Leslie Evans a few months ago, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter. Evans was stepping from a street car when Behrens' auto struck him, breaking his neck. Behrens was known as a fast driver, and a determined effort was made to convict him. It is believed he will receive a jail sentence.

Seven German Sailors Drowned.
Kiel, Germany, Oct. 28.—A small boat capsized as it was being lowered over the side of the German cruiser Muenchen, throwing its occupants into the water. A boatswain and six sailors were drowned.

A MAN'S HUMANITY
By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

At 8 o'clock one morning, as Deacon John Bradley of the town of Somers set was on his way to his sawmill, he came across an old mule lying down in the street. Not an inhabitant of the place owned a mule. Not a mule had even passed through the town in years. The appearance of one was a novelty. It was therefore easy for the deacon to reason that this mule had come from a distance. As the animal was almost skin and bones it was easy again to reason that he had been turned out to die.
Other men had noticed the old mule that morning and had passed on and left him to his fate. Deacon Bradley was not that kind of human. He had been known to gather a hundred potato bugs from the vines in his garden and tenderly carry them to the fence and drop them over. He had sat up night after night with sick cows, and he had taken in lame dogs and made them well again. His first move after coming across the mule was to bring the animal water and oats. He was rewarded by a grateful bray.

The mule drank twelve quarts of water and ate four quarts of oats and entered upon a new life. He was puzzled and mystified, but he wasn't kicking about a good thing. He had expected to die right where he dropped and had set his house in order as well as he could, but if Deacon Bradley wanted him to live on he would do so. When he had been filled with water and oats he got up and in his dumb way asked what next. For answer he was led to the deacon's barn, a quarter of a mile away, and then he made sure that he had found a man that would see him through his troubles.

Deacon Bradley was the subject of much "joshing," but he took it calmly. His conscience told him he had done the correct thing, and not a gibe reached its target. He got his reward in seeing that mule fill up and take on flesh and begin to frisk about as in his younger days. For two weeks the animal was silent. He hadn't quite lost his voice, but he was giving it a rest until he could decide whether the good thing was to last or not. One night he reviewed all that had been done thus far, made up his mind that his job was secure, and next morning when the deacon opened the barn door he was greeted with a bray of welcome. It was a sound that made the man jump back in affright. It was a note from a foehorn mingled with the scream of a terrified woman. It quivered and quivered and rumbled and died away. For two minutes the deacon looked to see the mule drop dead, and then he understood. Richard was getting to be himself again. He was feeling his oats and hay. He was coming to think that life was worth the living. It was a bray of welcome, but the deacon thought it could be improved. Therefore for the next week he mixed flaxseed with the oats and soaked slippery elm in the water pail. He did make an improvement, and he was glad. He was, however, the only one in Somers set who was glad.

No one advertised for a lost mule. No one came making inquiries. To obey the law made and provided in such cases Deacon Bradley advertised that he had picked up an stray, which the owner could have by paying damages after proving property, but there was no response. And yet there was. That mule seemed to divine that he had been advertised, and he set up such a lonesome braying that it took five lumps of sugar and four quarts of oats to still it.

"What about the mule, deacon?" was a question asked a dozen times a day, and the answer always was:
"Dunno, though I'm going to give him a chance."
The animal was not worked. All he was asked to do was to enjoy a state of idleness. This went on for six long weeks, and then his conscience began to prick him. Was he showing his gratitude? Was he on the job? He decided that he wasn't, and at 10 o'clock one night he stuck his head out of the open window in his stall and began to bray. The flaxseed and slippery elm had worked wonders. His bray was now as clear as the notes of a prima donna and as far-reaching as the whistle of an ocean liner. It was a "haw-haw-hup-hup-hup!"

The deacon didn't awake because he was a good man and his conscience was clear. The next morning, however, he was tackled by a score of yokkers who had got on to the mule. Some kindly asked him to knock the animal in the head with an ax, and some almost threatened to do as much for him if he didn't turn the brayer loose. To one and all he answered:
"Nature meant man to talk and the mule to bray, and I am not going agin nature."

The deacon found his friend's dropping away from him, but he made it up by spending more time in the company of the mule.
Then one morning—one morning when not a bray had disturbed the silence of the previous night—the mule was found dead in his stall. The people passed from the barn to the house and they found the deacon dead in his bed. Both man and mule had passed peacefully away after their work on earth had been finished. The one had proved himself truly a good Samaritan, and the other had died while trying to utter a last bray to show his gratitude.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER
The office of Commissioner is the one office within the gift of the county that should most deeply interest the taxpayer. The County Commissioner can more than any other man, squander the resources of the county, or by careful and economical administration of the office, save the county thousands of dollars annually. It goes then without saying that only men of known business ability, utmost integrity and thorough honesty should be elected to the office. To this latter class belongs our candidate, S. McEicholtz, of Menallen Twp., a staunch and loyal Democrat. Starting but a few years ago upon borrowed capital, he has, by the exercise of keen business judgment, honesty in dealing and strict economy, risen to an enviable financial position in his community. None can say aught against him. Even those, who from party reasons are working hardest to defeat him, admit there is nothing against either his fitness for the office or his character as a man. This is the candidate we are presenting to you Mr. Voter. Vote for him.

Ty Cobb's Base Running.
Writing on baseball ethics in the American Magazine, Hugh S. Fullerton defends, as a part of the game, interfering with, without touching, the base runner. He says:
"Ty Cobb, who probably is the speediest man circling the bases that ever ran the distance, lent his wonderful speed to some experiments last year. Cobb ran the bases on the Chicago National league park in October, 1908, timed by three watches at thirteen and one-fifth seconds, establishing a record. His run that day was marvelous in that he took every base in exact stride and lost extremely little ground in making the turns. Last year Cobb did some sprinting on the bases to establish a basis of time and distance for me. We placed the regular infield in position, and Cobb started, each man acting exactly as he does when Cobb hits a home run. The result was that he ran 476 feet in fifteen and four-fifths seconds, and not one of the infielders did anything that an umpire would analyze as 'interference,' although he actually was interfered with five times before he reached the plate."

Grandmothers Used Sage Tea

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If your hair is losing color or coming out, start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-day, and see what a change it will make in a few days' time.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. People's

PLAN TO RUSH STEEL SUIT

Government Asks For Hearing
by Entire Court.

DOUBT AS TO CRIMINAL CASE

There Are Said to Be Grave Doubts
Whether Criminal Prosecutions
Could Be Successful.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Now that the government's fight to dissolve the "steel trust" has been fairly started, there will be no slow movements in the battle.

When the bill in equity was filed in the United States court at Trenton asking for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries, Attorney General Wickersham also filed "a certificate of public importance."

This states that the case is of the utmost importance to the government and asks that it be heard by the complete bench of the Third circuit. Ordinarily it would be heard by only one.

Although the Steel Corporation will have four months to make its answer to the government's allegation that it is a dozen trusts within a trust, a "menace to the nation," and practically the most complete monopoly ever perfected in this country, there are possibilities of other developments meantime.

Attorneys for the corporation may demur to the government's charges.
In that event there may be some delay. After that possibility is disposed of the circuit court probably will appoint a master to hear testimony, and a battle of giants will begin.

Attorney General Wickersham and other officials of the department of justice expect to make progress much more rapidly than was done in either the Standard Oil and tobacco cases. It was a little less than five years from the time those cases were started untill they reached the supreme court of the United States for decision. The supreme court's decisions in those cases are expected to expedite the trial of the steel case.

The government's view is that the court's decision in the oil trust case, as regards stock holdings and inter-holdings, can be applied to the Steel Corporation.

The government's purpose is to show that the Steel Corporation is only a giant trust to hold at least a dozen other trusts. The bill charges that the Federal Steel company, the Carnegie company, of New Jersey; the American Steel and Wire company, of New Jersey; the National Tube company, the National Steel company, American Tin Plate company, American Steel Hoop company, American Sheet Steel company and others, are illegal trusts in themselves and combinations to monopolize trade.

The government asks that all these companies be dissolved and set back into the integral units of which they were formed, even before the organization of the United States Steel Corporation. In this respect the petition is complete.

The beginning of the civil suit raises the question of criminal prosecution of those active in the formation of the Steel Corporation. There is no official information obtainable on this point, but there are said to be grave doubts as to whether a criminal prosecution could be successful.

Combinations within combinations, pools within pools, agreements, both written and unwritten, are fixed prices and stifled competition, are alleged in minute detail in the suit. Practically every product of steel, from rails and bridges down to steel plates and wire, is alleged to be controlled by some pool or agreement.

May Take Year to Hear Case.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the announced determination of the government to press its suit for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation to as speedy a termination as possible, it is believed by both the court and the prosecuting attorney that the case cannot be ready for argument within a year.

Even this reckoning does not take into account the unavoidable delays likely to occur in taking the volumes of testimony which will probably figure in the case.

It was announced by an authoritative source that three judges will hear the case of the government against the United States Steel Corporation.
The judges are: George Gray of Wilmington, Del.; Joseph Buffington, of Pittsburg, Pa.; and William M. Langford, of Trenton, N. J. These three judges recently handed down a decision in favor of the government to dissolve the alleged powder trust.

Senator Wetmore Critically Ill.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Senator George Peabody Wetmore, of Rhode Island, is critically ill of pneumonia at the government's hotel on the canal zone. Members of his family in Washington received a cablegram emphasizing the serious condition of the senator and urging them to sail for the isthmus on the first steamer. Senator Wetmore went to the canal strip recently with the members of the senate committee on intercoastal canals.

that over fifty new grange have been stimulate the growth in grange mem-

Chinese Minister of War Reported Assassinated.

PROCLAIMS A REPUBLIC

General Li Yuan Heng, Rebel Leader, Provisional President.

Peking, Oct. 28.—General Li Yuan Heng, the rebel leader in the south, has informed the foreign consuls at Hankow that he has been proclaimed president of the Chinese republic.

The ministers of the various countries at Peking also received a copy of Li's proclamation, but have made no reply.

General Li has drawn up a list of things which are declared contraband of war. He also includes in the list vessels carrying the articles which are declared contraband.

To this the foreign ministers objected.

The new president of the Chinese republic is reported to have revealed ability and tact in his negotiations and a desire to avoid misunderstandings with the powers.

It is widely believed in Peking that the report that General Yin Chang, the minister of war, has been murdered in several days.

The fear that the uprising will soon reach Peking is becoming stronger, and there is a general exodus of officials and Manchurian families from the capital.
The settlements at Tientsin and the southern concessions are filled with refugees.

ITALIANS REPULSE ARMY OF ARABS

Muselman Force Routed With Heavy Loss.

Tripoli, Oct. 28.—After three nights of furious attacks on the Italian outposts, the Arabs, who have been doing most of the fighting, appear to have retired with heavy losses.

The casualties in the attacks at Bumeliana Surings and Sharsaset alone are estimated at 1000 Arabs and Turks killed and 500 wounded. The Italian losses are placed at 100.

It is estimated that the attacking force numbered 6000 men. They extended along the whole Italian front, and with reckless dashes often charged right up to the Italian trenches, where they were decimated by a withering fire from the Eighty-second and Fortieth regiments, which remained silent until the Arabs and Turks were at close range. Afterward the Eighty-fourth regiment leaped out of the trenches and by a magnificent bayonet charge scattered the enemy. They captured the green banner of the Arabs.

The three days' desperate attacks of the Turks and Arabs were made because the Italian garrison at Tripoli has been depleted by an expedition to the interior. The fate of this force is unknown.

Dismissal of Midshipmen Approved.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President the naval service of Midshipmen H.

Bleakley, of New Jersey, and E. F.
Leahy, of Wisconsin, all at the naval academy, for breaches of discipline.
The case of S. Roberts, of Illinois, a cadet involved in the same trouble, has not been acted upon.

recovering from an operation for appendicitis which was performed at his home last Monday by Dr. Frank Hartley.

Fall of Scaffold Kills Two.

Yonkstown, O., Oct. 28.—Two men were killed and four injured when a scaffolding at the Ohio Works blast furnaces of the Carnegie Steel company broke.

IMPORT COLORED HELP TO MINES

Operators Make First Move Preparing For Strike.

BROUGHT FROM THE SOUTH

Taking Men to Coal Regions to Get Acquainted With Work in Case Miners Strike Next April.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 28.—The coal operators of the anthracite fields have made their first open move in the expected war with the mine workers next April, when the present agreement expires, by the importation of colored laborers from the south.

There has been a demand for mine laborers, and the operators are anxious to supply it. Not being able to get enough in any other way to mine a surplus of coal in anticipation of a strike, they have struck upon the idea of colored labor. While it will not be acceptable to the men it will prove profitable to the operators. G. B.
Markle & Co. have imported the first carload of southern labor. The same firm used them in tunnel work successfully a number of years ago.

The nature of the work for some time on the part of the companies has been to develop sources, such as reclaiming old workings, driving gangways and opening chambers. While the operations ceased at this point it supplied a good supply of coal when compared with the working of small veins.

Bringing the men at this time will give them sufficient time to acquaint themselves with the work, and with a few experienced miners coal can be mined after April next in case of a strike. Experienced men can direct where holes are to be drilled and then personally take charge of the priming and setting off of the blasts.

Mine workers fear the move and it may have a strong influence upon the delegates to the convention at Pottsville next week.

JOHN D. WILL ENDOW F. & M.

President Apple Tells Reformed Synod of Promise.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—Announcement that John D. Rockefeller would give Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, $50,000, if an additional endowment fund of $200,000 is raised, was made at the meeting of the Eastern synod of the Reformed church in the First Reformed church.

Another act of importance in the synodical meeting was the appointment of a committee, headed by Rev.
C. E. Creitz, of Reading, Pa., to consider the question of the Reformed church uniting with the Presbyterian church.

Clergymen from all parts of the state were present at the meeting and were enthusiastic over the announcement of the Rockefeller gift and the possibility of union with the Presbyterian church. Union would be a big advantage to both denominations, they say.

The announcement of the Rockefeller gift was made by Rev. H. H.
Apple, president of Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, Pa. President Apple asked the synod to raise $15,000 of the required amount, laying stress upon the fact that the college is in need of the fund.

FILM KING SHOT

W. M. Selig Fatally Injured and Manager Killed by Jet.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28.—W. M.
Selig, of Chicago, head of a motion picture company, was probably fatally wounded, and Francis Boggs, manager of the Pacific coast department of the concern, was killed by a Japanese gardener.

The Japanese is in jail, charged with the crime, which, it is said, was committed without provocation.
Selig was known throughout the country as the "king" of the motion picture business in the west.

White Slaver Faces 34 Years in Jail.

New York, Oct. 28.—A possible thirty-four years in prison was the sentence meted out to Philip Solow by Judge Foster for "white slave" traffic. Solow was sentenced to from ten to twenty years in prison and to pay a fine of $5000, a day to be spent in prison for every dollar of the fine not paid. Non-payment of the total sum would add fourteen years to his prison term. Solow was convicted of bringing Eloys Wendt, seventeen years old, from her home in Pittsburg to New York.

Maryland Invites Southern Governors.

Baltimore, Oct. 28.—Governor Crothers sent invitations to the governors of the sixteen southern states to meet in this city on Dec. 8 for a conference on the best way to increase immigration to the south and encourage closer relations between the south and Baltimore. This will be during "Maryland week," when there will be an exhibition of the agricultural products of the state.

Plot in Ecuador to Slay President.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Oct. 28.—Several arrests have been made at Quito, following the discovery of what is asserted to have been a conspiracy involving the assassination of President Estrada and former President General Pizarro. The latter was once Ecuador-an minister to the United States.

Thoughtful of Mother.

Little Albert is a bright boy. In playing the other day he upset a beautiful imported flower holder, a gift to his mother from a friend who traveled abroad.

"There, see what you've done," his mother said, pointing to the fragments on the floor.
"Yes, mother, but don't take off your slippers. You might cut your feet," warned the lad.—Philadelphia Times.

SHIFT WEIGHT TO THE ENDS

Football Coaches Forced to Change Balance of the Line.

SPEED IS PRIME FACTOR

Long and Rangy Type of Gridiron Player Is Needed For Game's Extremities Under New Rules—Guards and Centers Need Not Be Heavy.

Weight as well as speed will again be a determining factor in football this season, according to experts, and the experiences of last season will teach coaches where their weight will be of most avail. To many the mention of weight will indicate a return to the days before the "purity rules," but the weight in this season's game will be in a different place from before the reformation in gridiron tactics, and the quality of speed will be far more necessary than ever before.

In the days before the frequent injuries caused a sweeping change in the code governing the pastime weight was concentrated principally in the center of the line, while the ends, the quarterback and often the halves were comparatively light men.

With the present code, however, there is little call for weight in the three central positions in the line, the center and the guards, while the fullback, without the assistance of his partners in the back field, necessarily must be a fast man. Weight, in all probability, will go to the ends, while a call for quarterbacks who combine all the old virtues of the director and in addition a certain amount of weight has gone out from the various training camps.

The man called "long and rangy" by the baseball writers, who has the necessary physical development for a

ROSENWALD, MINNESOTA'S STAR HALF-BACK.

(Many western football experts predict that Rosenwald, Minnesota's great halfback, will be given a position on the all American team this fall. Last season he was one of the best back field men in the west.)

football player, will be a valuable acquisition for any of the coaches of the west.

Two things are absolutely fundamental in the end, speed and weight. With practically every play in the catalogue aimed around the end or off tackle, the man guarding the extremities of the line must necessarily be sufficiently powerful to withstand attack after attack.

The abolition of the old push and pull system in interference and helping the runner precludes possibility of plays inside the tackle positions gaining ground, so coaches, as was the case last season, probably will be forced to send play after play against the outsiders of the line.

Speed also is required, for the forward pass will wreak havoc with the team which has not a quick pair of ends. It is generally admitted that under the rule prohibiting the ends from interfering with men eligible to receive the forward pass once they have passed the line of scrimmage several are bound to shift through, however effective may be the end's work on the line.

So the end will have to have all the intuitive qualities in sizing up a play which in former years were supposed to be vested only in the august person of the quarterback. His speed also must be used in offense, for he is one of the best men eligible to receive forward passes.

The Bacon Hog.

Bacon hogs have long noses, and breeders say that long nosed hogs always produce better bacon than do short nosed ones. It is also true that the bacon breeds respond to good feed and care so rapidly that in a few generations their type may change and they cease to be bacon hogs. The most remarkable transformation of this kind is found in the mule footed hog.

MOST FARMERS

Do not object to their neighbors and friends hunting on their land or to any others who have due regard for their property, but all farmers do object to the hunter who tramples down grain, tears down fences and does other damage. The surest way to protect yourself is to placard your property. Cardboard trespass signs 5 cents each, 6 for 25 cents; muslin signs 10 cents each, 3 for 25 cents. And in order to keep undesirable hunters from coming out to your land and possibly disregarding such signs the best thing you could do would be to place your name in our trespass list. Fifty cents commend it which has recently been enacted in some states, whereby the tuition of country pupils attending neighboring town schools is met by the school district in which they live and

Our small heaters at $1.25 and $1.75 will take the chill off of any room in a very few minutes and keep it comfortable as long as you need heat. The cost of the gas for these heaters is a minor matter when compared to keeping up a furnace fire or fire in a large coal heater and it is the most economical fuel you can procure. See the heaters in the window of our store on Baltimore Street.

WATER HEATERS

Those instantaneous water heaters are the very thing for the person who wants to take a bath immediately after he rises one of these chilly mornings and doesn't care to wait fifteen minutes or a half hour for water of comfortable temperature. We will be glad to show them to you.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chambers, N. Y.
Editor of the New York State Grange Review

THE GRANGE AND FAIRS.

Some New York Granges Add Interest to the Shows and Increase Their Own Funds.

The grange is coming to be the most important factor in the success of the county fairs. This has been repeatedly shown the past season. The grange exhibits are notable for their excellence and variety, which is the outgrowth of a healthy competition. At one county fair that came under the writer's observation the grange displays of fruit, vegetables and grains were far better than the combined exhibits of individuals. The prizes offered by the society were $100 for first and $75 for second. These are liberal premiums, but none too liberal for the much labor and considerable expense attached to the work. One county fair association in western New York compensates in part those granges which are located at some distance from the place of the fair by awarding them one extra point on their score for each mile traveled by the grange exhibiting. The exhibits are scored as to quality, and $1 is awarded for each point won and $1 extra per mile for each mile traveled. Managers of our county fairs will do well to give considerable attention to these grange features. Some of the local grange fairs held for a single day at the grange hall are revelations to those who have not before attended them.

Thirteen granges entered the contest instituted by the St. Lawrence county fair, wherein prizes of $50, $30 and $20 were to be awarded to the granges having the largest percentage of their members in attendance at the fair. It was confined to one day only. The first prize of $50 was awarded to Morley grange as having the largest percentage of its members present; the second, $30, to Silas Wright grange of Canton, and the third, $20, was awarded to Rensselaer Falls grange. A good deal of interest was manifested in the grange exhibit in dairy hall at the same fair. Cray Mills grange won the first prize of $40 in the contest, having a great variety of farm products most artistically arranged. The second prize of $30 was awarded to Silas Wright grange of Canton.

One on Stetson.

State Master Stetson of Maine tells the following story on himself: "One time I was giving an address at Excessor grange and putting forth what I thought to be one of the best speeches I had ever made. In the midst of an unusually fine flow of rhetoric I happened to glance over in one corner of the hall. There sat Brother Carver of Danville Junction in what I termed a very indifferent attitude. As he didn't seem to appreciate my efforts I shouted a little louder that he might hear. Suddenly his chair slipped. There was a mighty crash, and when Carver had picked himself up from the floor I said, 'Well, Carver, I'm not to blame for that.' 'Quick as a flash the answer came: 'Yes, you are too. If you hadn't been talking I shouldn't have gone to sleep.'"

WINTER WORK FOR THE BOY.

Way to Keep Him on the Farm is to Make it Profitable For Him.

Many farmers who do not feel able to pay their sons very high wages in spring and summer and who feel that the boys really do not earn more than $10 or $12 a month with their board have arranged matters so that the young men can in the winter make up for the apparently low wages of summer and make some money without taking it out of the family purses. Many men would like to send their sons to college and then set them up on farms of their own, but they are not financially able to do so, and even if they were it might be the worst thing possible for the boys. The best plan, as many fathers have found out, is to help the boy to help himself and keep him so busy and with so much money flowing into his pocket as to drive out all thoughts of deserting the farm, says the Country Gentleman.

Some may have taken up the plan of allowing their boys to take in flocks of sheep on shares, merely going security for them when necessary, but putting them beyond this entirely on their own resources. There is no surer way of building up a rundown farm or one not large enough to support much stock than by getting on a lot of sheep as winter boarders. The fertility counts year by year, and while the boy is kept out of mischief the farm is steadily growing in value.

Then there are other fathers who encourage the boys to take up winter work in the shape of teaching the district school, working in the barn of a neighbor who has much stock and little help to take care of it, buying poultry for some dealer or any one of a dozen occupations that pay fairly well for a young man's time. Teaching the district school leaves little time to help with the farm chores, but the farmer is relieved of the worry of the boy wanting to leave the farm, and school will be out in the spring in time for the active farm work, so that what the boy makes is almost clear money.

Boarding town horses is another industry open to boys and one that is not hard work. The feed must be bought and the horses given regular and intelligent care, but it doesn't take very long to look after a dozen horses and keep them in good condition. There is always the chicken business to fall back on, and an enterprising lad can put in a winter flock that will more than pay for itself in eggs and then can sell the hens for almost as much as they cost when spring comes. By picking up a few hens here and a few there at odd moments he can get a respectable flock and have a nice basket of eggs to market each week from the last of January until May.

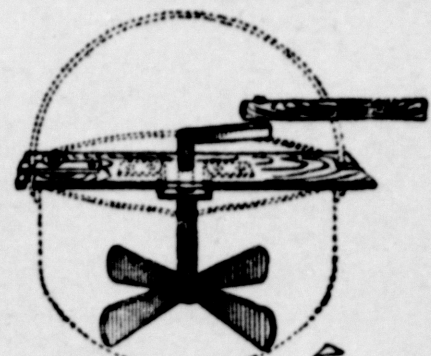

It is easy to keep boys busy in winter on any farm, but not always easy to make the time profitable for them. It takes real courage on the part of the average father to give the son his whole time and board him free while he might be cleaning up the farm or helping him make money.

NOW'S THE TIME.

Now is a good time to plan next year's crops and prepare for carrying out your plans. Have your tools and seed all ready to use when the soil is fit to work. Test your seed corn, so you will not have to waste your time in the spring to do it.

With the Feathered Folk.

If possible give the turkeys all the sweet milk they can possibly drink. Excellent market geese can be bred by crossing African or China on Toulouse.

Beans are highly nitrogenous and make an excellent food for the fowls. So also are peas and will be relished by the chickens as a change in their diet.

In growing cockerels and pullets for breeding stock the feed given should be different from that given for market poultry. As soon as the sexes can be fully determined they should be separated and the cockerels fed a greater allowance than the pullets.
